ORDER

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing recitals, which are incorporated into this order (this “Order”), the Court hereby orders as follows:

1. The Honorable Marvin Isgur, United States Bankruptcy Judge for the Southern District of Texas, is to serve as mediator (the “Mediator” or “Judge Isgur”) in these chapter 11 cases. At all times in the performance of his duties as the Mediator, Judge Isgur will be acting in his official capacity as a United States Bankruptcy Judge, with all of the privileges and immunities of a United States Bankruptcy Judge.

2. The Mediator is authorized to mediate any issues and disputes concerning the Mediation Topics. The scope and procedures for the Mediation will be determined by the Mediator, following consultation with the Parties as he deems appropriate, and may include some or all of the Mediation Topics.

3. The Mediation is subject to the Procedures for Complex Cases in the Southern District of Texas (Effective January 1, 2023).

4. Effects of Mediation on Pending Matters. The hearing to consider the Celsius Administrative Claim Motion previously scheduled for May 22, 2023, at 1:30 p.m. (prevailing Central Time) has been adjourned to a future date to be determined while the Parties participate in the Mediation. The deadline to respond to the Proof of Claim Objection is stayed pending the outcome of the Mediation. The Mediation shall not impact the scheduling of the Summary Judgment Briefing. The parties have agreed that with respect to the Summary Judgment Briefing, Celsius’s opposition shall be filed on June 21, 2023 and Core’s reply shall be filed on June 30, 2023.

5. Time and Place of Mediation. The Mediation will commence on July 11, 2023 at 1:30 pm (Prevailing Central Time), and will take place in Houston, Texas at a location to be determined by the Mediator. At least one representative with settlement authority for each Party shall attend the Mediation.

6. Submission Materials. Each Party may directly submit to the Mediator any materials (the “Submission”) in form and content as the Mediator directs. Prior to the Mediation, the Mediator may confer with the Parties to determine what materials would be helpful. The Submission must not be filed with the Court.

7. Protection of Information Disclosed at Mediation. The Mediator, the Parties, and their advisors are prohibited from divulging, outside of the Mediation, any oral or written information disclosed by the Parties in the course of the Mediation. The terms of the Protective Orders shall control the exchange and treatment of Confidential Material and Highly Confidential Material (both as defined in the Protective Orders). For the purposes of the Mediation, to the extent there is a conflict between the Celsius Protective Orders and the Core Protective Order, the Core Protective Order shall govern and as may be necessary, the Celsius Committee will be deemed subject to the Core Protective Order, solely for purposes of the Mediation. No person may rely on or introduce as evidence in any arbitration, judicial, or other proceeding, evidence pertaining to any aspect of the mediation effort, including but not limited to: (a) views expressed or suggestions made by a Party with respect to a possible settlement of the dispute; (b) the fact that another Party had or had not indicated willingness to accept a proposal for settlement made by the Mediator; (c) proposals made or views expressed by the Mediator; (d) oral or written statements or admissions made by a Party in the course of the Mediation; and (e) documents prepared for the purpose of, in the course of, or pursuant to the Mediation, including but not limited to the Submissions. Without limiting the foregoing, the Parties are bound by (x) rule 408 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, and (y) any applicable federal or state statute, rule, common law, or judicial precedent relating to the privileged nature of settlement discussions, mediations, or other alternative dispute resolution procedures. All statements and Submissions made during the course of the Mediation are privileged settlement discussions, and are made without prejudice to any Party's legal position, and are inadmissible for any purpose in any legal proceeding. Information otherwise discoverable or admissible in evidence does not become exempt from discovery, or inadmissible in evidence, merely by being used by a Party in the Mediation.

8. Discovery from Mediator. The Mediator may not be compelled to disclose to the Court or to any person any of the records, reports, summaries, notes, communications, or other documents received or made by the Mediator while serving in such capacity. The Mediator may not testify or be compelled to testify regarding the Mediation in connection with any arbitration, judicial, or other proceeding. The Mediator will not be a necessary Party in any proceedings relating to the Mediation. Nothing contained in this paragraph prevents the Mediator from reporting (a) the status, but not the substance, of the mediation effort to the Court or (b) whether a Party failed to participate in good faith in the Mediation.

9. Protection of Proprietary Information. The Parties, the Mediator, and all participants in the Mediation shall protect proprietary information.

10. Preservation of Privileges. The disclosure by a Party of privileged information to the Mediator does not waive or otherwise adversely affect the privileged nature of such information.

11. Service of Process. No Party may be served with a summons, subpoena, notice, or other pleading during the Mediation or at the location where the Mediation is occurring.

12. The results of the Mediation are non-binding upon the Parties.

13. The Parties are authorized and empowered to take all actions necessary to effectuate the relief granted in this Order.

14. Notwithstanding rule 6004(h) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the terms and conditions of this Order are immediately effective and enforceable upon its entry.

15. Each of the Parties to the Stipulation represents and warrants that it is duly authorized to enter into and be bound by this Order.

16. The Court retains exclusive jurisdiction with respect to all matters arising from or related to the implementation, interpretation, and enforcement of this Order.
